More than 33 buildings ravaged 'Great Fire' of 1851 destroys Ypsilanti's business district

By KAREN CHAREST
Of The Press Staff

It was back in the days when caskets were called coffins and Gilman Davis and David Coon were doing the undertaking business.

The coffins were made of cherry and black walnut with an outside finish of beeswax to fill the wood pores and then topped with a coat of varnish. They were ornamented with brass-headed nails and trunk handles on the sides and a lid which turned over to expose the face.

It was 1851.

The city had pledged $13,500 for the establishment of the first State Normal College in Michigan, now known as Eastern Michigan University. The expense of erecting buildings and providing equipment was the responsibility of the community, according to an act of the Michigan Legislature.

In trying to win the college from four other bidding towns, Ypsilanti also offered to pay the salary of the principal of the model school for five years, amounting to not more than $700 a year.

It was a time of wealth and Ypsilanti was beginning make a real foothold in the State of Michigan.

Then disaster struck at midnight March 28, 1851 — 120 years ago.

The most destructive fire in Ypsilanti history started at the corner of Congress and Washington Sts., burning every building on the entire block bounded by Congress (now Michigan Ave.), Huron, Pearl and Washington streets. Leaping across Huron St. and extending to the river, the flames destroyed almost the entire business portion of the city.

The Michigan Argus, dated April 2, 1851, said more than 33 buildings were destroyed with the "loss estimated at between $50,000 and $60,000, insurance being about $15,000."

"The citizens made heroic efforts to stay the flames," reads "The Story of Ypsilanti" by Harvey C. Colburn, but the flames spread rapidly beyond control of the primitive fire-fighting apparatus.

In trying to control the flames, ropes were fastened to the building known as "The Ark" on the southeast corner of Washington and Pearl, and futile efforts were made to pull it down. The fire, however, did not reach that building.

Where the First National Bank now stands at the corner of Michigan Ave. and Washington St. was the residence of Elijah Grant, who died the day before the fire. The flames became so hot it seemed for a time impossible to save any of the buildings on the south side of the street. The family, thinking the home might go at any moment, carried the body of Grant out through a rear window to another home on S. Washington St.

Another tale relates the ashes were scarcely cold when Erastus Samson, who suffered a loss of $3,600 to his drug and book store, had lumber purchased and had made arrangements (Concluded on Page 3)

Officials to examine their joint problems

Officials of most eastern Washtenaw County area communities will meet Monday in the Ypsilanti Township

Hall to discuss various subjects related to planning, utility and law enforcement. Invitations have been extended to Ypsilanti, and the townships of Superior, Pittsfield, Augusta and Ann Arbor, to the area-wide conference sponsored by Ypsilanti Township. The Ypsilanti Township Board in January passed a resolution proposing a meeting of government units contiguous to the township to resolve mutual problems and improve communication among them.

So far, most townships have expressed enthusiasm about the event, some city officials will also attend. The meeting will start at 6:30 p.m.

It will be an informal gathering of local officials and no formal proposal or resolution is being prepared by the host community, according to William L. Gagnon, supervisor.

On the agenda are these items: utilities, including water and sewer connections, regional planning, police protection and intergovernmental communication.

Local government officials have been talking informally about joint approaches to the solution of common problems, such as the ones to be discussed at the meeting.

Ypsilanti city and Ypsilanti Township officials earlier have expressed an interest in using a joint approach to providing for their sewage treatment needs.

As a prologue to Monday's meeting on joint cooperation between the units of government are the joint meetings which have been held between the city of Ypsilanti and Ypsilanti Township.

At these meetings which started several months ago, the discussion centered around how cooperation could be improved between the two of them.

In addition to discussing sewage treatment needs the two groups, talked about joint recreational facilities and also about the supplying of water to the area.

At their latest joint meeting last Monday, the city gave preliminary approval to Ypsilanti Township to tie into a city water-line on the north side of the city.

Reaction 'cool' to tax plan

Local townships would not benefit

Three local township officials have reacted coolly to Gov. William G. Milliken's proposed plan to alter the state's distribution of unrestricted tax funds to local communities throughout the state.

One city official reacted favorably to the proposal, which would change fund-sharing from a population formula to one based on a self-help concept — the more a community taxes, the more it would get back from the state.

The current distribution is based solely on population. Under it, each community will receive an estimated $15.63 per person this fiscal year in state aid from sales, income and intangible taxes for any use it pleases.

Milliken would alter the population formula, measuring each community on how its local property and income taxes compare with the statewide average.

Those with a higher-than-average "Relative Tax Effort" would get more than the $17.95 per capita estimated for fiscal 1971-72 if the population-only formula continued.

Figures obtained yesterday from David R. Morris of the governor's office show Ypsilanti is the only community among 12 in the area, including five cities and seven townships, which would have gained money if the proposed plan had been law during fiscal 1970-71.

Councilwoman Nathalie Edmunds, the only city official available for comment,

State aid formula based on local tax

Under Gov. William G. Milliken's proposal for the state-wide distribution of unrestricted tax funds to local communities, here is how the formula would work:

said "whatever formula would give Ypsilanti the most money would be the best."

She said she would have to do more research before giving more reaction to the governor's proposal.

Figures released earlier in the week showed large cities would benefit the most under the new plan, largely at the expense of townships.

According to current figures, biggest beneficiaries under the governor's proposal would be Detroit, Highland Park and Hamtramck. Others would be Bay City, Pontiac, Ironwood, Manistee, Sault Ste. Marie and Utica.

These communities with lower-than-average levels of taxation would get less than the $17.95 they stand to receive if the population-only criteria is kept.

Divide the millage figure by the State Equalized Valuation (SEV) of 15.31 mills. That result is a community's "Relative Tax Effort."

If the figure is more than 1.0, the community would gain under the proposed formula: If it is less than 1.0, the community would get more under the current population-only formula in fiscal 1971-72.

Here are figures for the city of Ypsilanti and Ypsilanti Township as examples. They are based on 1969 millage figures and are used for illustration only. If the bill passes, the relative tax effort would be computed from 1970 millage figures.

Ypsilanti's 1969 property tax totaled 16.64 mills. Divided by the SEV of 15.31, Ypsilanti would wind up with a relative

HOT-LINE—

Your 'whys' answered

QUESTION: Why can't Wayne County and Washtenaw County get an estimate of the cost to pave Rawsonville Rd. and each county pay half?—M. Barnes.

ANSWER: As this is a county line road, negotiations are in progress between the two drain commissions to improve the land and road drainage, and discussions are in progress between the two road commissions regarding improvements to the road.—H.G. Minier, managing director, Washtenaw County Road Commission.

ANSWER: The Inter-County Drainage Board is investigating the cleaning and improvement of the North County Line Drain which will improve land and road drainage when completed. The existing road can then be improved to assure capability of adequate maintenance.—M.J. Zolik, assistant managing director, Wayne County Road Commission.

QUESTION: Now that Penn Central says they will fix the Factory St. crossing, what about the terrible mess at the railroad crossing of N. River and E. Cross Sts.? It's much worse than Factory St. — Disgusted.

Answer: The City Public Works Department has been in touch with us on the condition of this crossing. We are currently patching the crossing with cold patch asphalt. During the 1971 construction season, we plan to rebuild the crossing. We feel this rebuilding will correct the current problem and provide a smooth roadway surface for Ypsilanti motorists.—J.H. Becker, division office engineer, Penn Central Railroad.

QUESTION: What if anything is planned for the intersection of S. Grove and Bridge Rds.? Bridge Rd. traffic is supposed to "yield" to Grove Rd. traffic, but that's a laugh! Also, why isn't there a "curve" sign on Grove east of Bridge? — Mrs. Franklin Johnson.

(NO ANSWER was submitted by Ypsilanti Township.)

ANSWER: This intersection is being studied, along with others, for reconstruction with federal aid. At the present time, the traffic control signs are installed according to accepted standards. The sight distance and degree of curve with the stop control westbound Grove does not warrant a curve sign east of Bridge Rd. — H. G. Minier, managing director, Washtenaw County Road Commission.

Ypsilanti HOT-LINE welcomes any and all questions you may have about your local community. Any topic of general public interest or concern is "fair game". The ground rules are simple:

Questions should be brief and must be about the local community; they must be typewritten or legibly handwritten and mailed or delivered to Ypsilanti HOT-LINE at The Press. All must be signed and bear the sender's address and phone number, although the questioner's identity will be withheld if requested. Questions should not be personal attacks or appeals, political propaganda or statements "disguised" as questions. Answers will be sought by HOT-LINE from the officials and-or persons involved.

THE WORLD OF RELIGION

God is mystifying, but important to children questioned by couple

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP)—Ask a child who God is, and you're apt to get some odd answers, such as: "He gives parties," "A ghost," "A millionaire," "A magician." "The smartest person in the world." "Me."

These were some of the responses received by a Daytona Beach, Fla., couple, Edward and Elizabeth Fox, in interviewing children, 5 to 7 years old, about their religious concepts.

"Above all else, the one thing we learned was that to most children, God, though mystifying, is very real and very important," they said.

They report the varying, often touching or funny remarks of the youngsters in a new book issued by Doubleday called "Christ is God's Middle Name"—a line taken from a comment by a little girl.

Here are a few excerpts of questions, and the children's answers:

Linda: "He's a king. He looks like a hippie." How does he look like a hippie? "He has whiskers." What else? "He wears dresses." Like your mother's? "No. My mother wears minis, and his go all the way down to the ground."

Jimmy: "I don't know." Does anyone know? "Yes, the astronauts who went to the moon." How do they know? "They saw Him." Then why didn't they take pictures of Him? "They did." Has anyone seen the pictures? "Yes." Who? "The President." Why no one else? "It's secret information."

Pete: "He's against the devil. . . they fight all the time." Where? "In people." Do they ever fight in you Pete? "Yes." How do you know? "I can feel it."

Billy: "Clouds." What kind of clouds? "The big ones like castles." They're God? "Not the clouds themselves." What are "The faces." The faces in the clouds? "Yes." Each one you see is God? "Yes." That makes a lot of Gods doesn't it? "No, it's the same God. He just makes different faces."

Joe: "The man in heaven

I pray to." What kind of prayers? "I ask for things." What things? "Right now I'm praying for a new bike." What else? "Muscles." Why muscles? "So I can beat up Chick Lowry."

Nancy: "A spirit." What does He do? "Everything. . . He runs the world." How? "He makes it work." Does He ever do bad things? "No." What about making things die? "That's not really bad." Why not? "Because people don't die forever."

At three churches:

Guest speakers scheduled

Three guest speakers are scheduled to appear at local churches this week.

A Lenten Revival will be led by Evangelist Joseph Morone at Immanuel Baptist Church, 1565 E. Forest Ave., Sunday through Friday.

He will conduct the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday services and the daily 7 p.m. services. The Wednesday evening service will be for teen-agers with an opportunity for discussion on how Christianity relates to their everyday lives.

Local Greeks to celebrate anniversary

To commemorate the 150th anniversary of the Greek independence, the Greek Orthodox Parish of St. Nicholas, 414 N. Main St., Ann Arbor, has scheduled several activities for Sunday.

At 1 p.m. a wreath will be placed before the Statue of Ypsilanti at the Water Tower by Ypsilanti Mayor Richard L. Boatwright.

Earlier in the day, a Divine Liturgy Service will be held at the church at 11 a.m. Then a Doxology will be held at noon in honor of the men and women who gave their lives for the freedom of Greece.

The Rev. Donald Scavella, Sr., will be the guest preacher for the Mid-week Lenten Service at the First United Methodist Church of Ypsilanti, 209 Washtenaw Ave., Tuesday.

Rev. Scavella, pastor of the Scott United Methodist Memorial Church in Detroit, will speak following a pot-luck dinner at 6:30 p.m.

He has been involved with inner city work for several years in Cincinnati and Columbus, Ohio and in Atlanta, Ga.

Reservations for the dinner may be made by calling 482-8374.

Miss Dorothy Wiseman, a missionary for the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, will speak at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Metropolitan Baptist Church, 431 Hawkins St.

She was supervisor of the operating room at the Evangelical Medical Institute in Kimpepe, Democratic Republic of the Congo. The facility includes a 250-bed hospital and training school for nurses and other paramedical workers. She also

Diary of Young is found

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—An old diary of Brigham Young, only one of four known to exist, has been returned to Utah after being missing from the state for 100 years.

The diary, which disappeared between 1860 and 1880, was turned over to University of Utah officials Thursday night by Dr. William R. Keast as part of the university's observance of its founding 121 years ago.

Keast, president of Wayne State University, Detroit, Mich., said the diary came to Wayne State from a private collection.

It will be the only one known to exist outside the archives of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, which Young helped start in Utah. He was the second president, after founder Joseph Smith, of the LDS Church.

Power of faith

By Woodi Ishmael

The New Testament, unlike the Old Testament which was developed in a span of over a thousand years, was written in a little over 50 years. When Jesus went to the temple as a boy to converse and read with the priest, they were in all probability using the ancient leather scrolls of Hebrew scripture. For almost a generation after the crucifixion nothing was written which is now in the New Testament. The stories were kept alive by word of mouth. It was the Apostle Paul, the tireless traveler, the first missionary, whose Epistle or letter to the Thessalonians was written in 50 A.D. The Epistles of Paul makes up 14 books of the New Testament and, next to the words of Christ himself, are the most profound and significant of Christian thought. The first account of Jesus' life and ministry was written by Mark about 70 A.D. It was followed by the Gospel according to St. Matthew. St. Luke was a doctor by profession and an educated man. His was the third gospel to be written. He also wrote The Acts. The last Gospel of St. John was written about 100 A.D. He is also the writer of the Book of Revelations. The other books are The Epistles of Peter, James, John and Jude. Throughout the New Testament the Old Testament played a very important part in Christian thinking. Jesus emphasized the importance of the Law and the Prophets. The Apostles quoted from the Ancient Scriptures, all seeking a deeper understanding between man and God.

Ann Arbor churches to hold special services, programs

Bethany Bible Church, 4220 Packard Ave., Ann Arbor, will sponsor Arron Hamlin, field director for the National Negro Evangelical Association, at their Sunday morning worship service. The association was formulated in 1963 by a group of black evangelical Christians.

Sunday's 6 p.m. service will feature representatives from the past missionary conference "encounter groups" speaking. Mr. and Mrs. Frasier Brookshire will also be welcomed as new members.

"The Carpenter," a play for Passion Sunday, will be presented during the 10 a.m. Sunday worship service at Calvary Presbyterian Church, 2727 Fernwood Ave., Ann Arbor. The play, a depiction of several peoples reactions to the crucifixion of Christ, is written and directed by Martin Doudna, chairman of Christian Education. Members of the cast are Jane Cummins, Austin Vance, Bill Scheider, Nancy Briggs, Bill Sharp, Doug Sorensen and Bettie Hart.

Following the service will be the regular coffee time and Adult Forum.

Yearly sermon slated Sunday is nation-wide

Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, 529 N. Hewitt Rd., will hold their yearly lecture, which is given simultaneously in over 5,600 congregations of the witnesses in the U.S., at 10 a.m. Sunday.

The topic for this year's special lecture is "Restoration of All Things of which God Spoke" and will be delivered by W. J. Fisher, congregation's presiding minister.

The program will be followed by the weekly hour study of an article in the Watchtower magazine with the topic, "Enduring Trials that Test Our Faith."

26 students planning English Spring trip

The Tower of London, Big Ben, Westminster Abbey and Stratford-on-Avon are among the cultural sites 26 Ypsilanti High students and their chaperones will see during their stay in England over Spring vacation.

The students will be staying in London and taking side trips to Shakespeare country, Canterbury, Windsor Castle, Hampton Court and other historical sites.

The group, which calls itself the Literary Exploration Organization, has planned the trip since early October. It will be partially financed through community donations and through rummage sales, car washes and candy sales.

The class in which the idea was originated was an 11th grade advanced English course taught by Miss Sadie B. Garner, who will serve as the tour director.

Each student will pay $200 for the 8-day trip. Thus far, the students have collected more than $1,500 from money making projects and donations.

The students and their chaperones will leave Metropolitan Airport April 8 and return to Detroit April 16.

Customers rummage around the paraphernalia for sale at the Club House of the Ypsilanti Association of Women, Inc., at 319 S. Washington St. and simultaneously help to send 26 Ypsilanti High School students to England for Easter Vacation. —Press Photo clause, no unit would get less next fiscal year than the current per capita level estimated at $15.63. That amount would be guaranteed by a special appropriation over and above the regularly shared funds. All seven area townships would fall in this category.

Reaction is 'cool' to new tax plan

Reacting against the proposal was Augusta Township Supervisor Sylvester J. Blaszk, who said, "Distribution should depend on the needs of the local unit of government and not on tax effort."

"Under this proposal, the cities which are losing population would be getting most of the money, while our population is growing as a result of people moving out of the city. The needs have been created by the influx of the people from the city to the townships," he added.

Ypsilanti Township Supervisor William L. Gagnon said he hasn't studied the proposal thoroughly but said from what he has seen, "I couldn't buy a bit of it."

"The townships are just ignored with Milliken's proposal," Gagnon said.

Superior Township trustee Diana M. Parkes said, "The concept on paper basically is good, but it helps take care of the cities needs and not of the townships."

"The no cut clause states there will be no cut in the amount of money received per capita from the state for Chairmen for solicitations from the general public and from the schools have not been appointed.

Angelocci plans to talk with members of Eastern Michigan University's Panhellenic Council and Interfraternity Council to organize a tag day drive to meet the costs of publicity.

The capital funds committee needs a total of $190,000 to convert the former St. John's High School into the proposed recreation center.

Ypsilanti Mayor Richard L. Boatwright last week endorsed the plan.

Today, Superior Township Supervisor William A. Pineau said, "I wholeheartedly support the concept of a Y; we all contribute to worthwhile community projects and this one rates high on the list." He said "the participation of township families in the Y is a good thing; I'm glad we were included."

this fiscal year to the next," she said.

"If an increase is to come to the cities under this new plan, I'm questioning where the new money is coming from."

Milliken has defended his proposed alteration of the population-only formula on the grounds the present system does not do enough for urban areas.

Initial legislative action indicates the plan may have a difficult time becoming law, based mainly on opposition to the plan from many townships in the state.

Adding his reaction, State Rep. Roy Smith (R-Ypsilanti) said, "I have no intention of supporting it (the proposal) on the basis of the information I have."

He said the proposal would benefit mainly Detroit with its financial problems.

"To get support for the proposal, they are increasing the amount to some of the other outstate cities," Smith said. "They're trying to sweeten it up just enough to buy votes to pass it."

tax effort of 1.09 — slightly above average.

Ypsilanti Township, however, levied only 5.98 mills in 1969. That means its relative tax effort was just .39 — far below the state-wide average.

Each unit, no matter what its relative tax effort, would get an estimated $12.36 per capita from a population-only distribution of the sales tax. The sales tax distribution would not be affected by the proposed formula change.

However, the relative tax effort would be used to figure the distribution of shared revenue from the income and intangibles taxes. This is estimated at $5.59 per person.

Multiply the relative tax effort by $5.59. In Ypsilanti's case, it would be $5.59 times 1.09 for a total of $6.09.

Added to the $12.36 sales tax distribution, this gives Ypsilanti an estimated total of $18.45 per capita for fiscal 1971-72 under the governor's proposed plan. It is 50 cents higher than the estimated figure of $17.95 for fiscal 1971-72 under the present population-only formula.

In the case of Ypsilanti Township, however, its relative tax effort of .39 times the $5.59 would be just $2.18. That figure added to the $12.36 from the sales tax would total $14.54.

The township then would receive an additional $1.09 from the "no loss" clause to bring its total share to the minimum figure of $15.63.

The "no loss" clause guarantees no community would receive less than the current per capita level estimated at $15.63.

David R. Morris of the governor's office said an advantage of the proposed plan is the relative tax effort would shift if a community's property taxes changed.

As estimated sales and income tax revenues rise, he pointed out, Ypsilanti Township's per capita share would rise to $15.61 in 1972-73 (still 2 cents below the guaranteed figure of $15.63) and then to $16.74 per capita in fiscal 1973-74.

These figures, however, would still be below the estimated population-only share of $17.95 for fiscal 1971-72.

Highland Park man is held for marijuana

BELLEVILLE — A Highland Park man was remanded over to the Wayne County Jail on $1,000 bail yesterday on charges of possession of marijuana after his car was stopped by State Police yesterday morning.

Michael A. Walker, 22, pleaded innocent before Judge George A. Wicklund in 34th District Court. Examination was set for April 8, and he was sent to jail after failing to post bond.

Walker had been stopped at 2:16 a.m. on westbound I-94 near Morton Taylor Rd. in Van Buren Township after the police noticed a tail light missing from his car.

They said he was unable to produce registration papers for his auto, and after getting out, gave troopers permission to look for ownership papers.

Police said a search of a pouch on the door on the driver's side turned up a small plastic bag of a marijuana-like substance. Further searching revealed another paper sack of the substance in the rear window compartment of the auto, according to police.

A check revealed Walker's drivers' license was suspended.

Local youth sentenced

A local resident, recently found guilty by a jury of the New Year's Eve robbery of a service station, was sentenced yesterday in Circuit Court.

Gregory Weatherspoon, 18, of 960 W. Michigan Ave. — was ordered to serve from 27 months to five years with the Michigan Corrections Commission for assault with intent to rob being armed.

Weatherspoon was found guilty of the robbery of the Best Gasoline Station at 2220 Washtenaw Ave. Some $241 was stolen from the station.

Police contend Weatherspoon was one of three men who entered the station and robbed three attendants at gun-point.

MEMO FROM A CAR DEALER

DO YOU REALLY KNOW HOW TO PARK YOUR CAR?

GENE BUTMAN

There is a precise method. Properly done, it eliminates back and forth turning in a tight, one-car space and puts your car at the curb in half the time. Here's how it's done.

First, stop the car parallel to the car parked in the space ahead with the bumpers even and the cars about two feet apart. Switch on your curb-side turn signal.

Now turn your wheels fully toward the curb and back up slowly until your steering wheel comes parallel with the rear bumper of the parked car.

At this point, straighten the wheels and continue backing until your front bumper is even with the parked car's rear bumper. Then turn the wheel hard in the opposite direction to the curb as you continue to back up.

Stop when the front wheels touch the curb, straighten the space. Your tires should be only a few inches from the curb. wheels and move slowly forward to mid-position in the parking

It's simple, but very few motorists do it correctly. These steps may help you to avoid fender and bumper dents that are costly to repair and significantly reduce the resale value of your car if left unattended.

See you next Saturday.

'Ypsilanti potpourri'

Dozens of "proclamations" designed to boost the observance of everything from Little League sports to Greek Independence Day or "be kind to your neighbor week" are issued continually throughout the year. But few have resulted in as much consternation locally as one which "slipped by" this week.

As a result of a clerical slip, any future requests for special "proclamations" will have to be personally presented to the mayor.

Red faces resulted when a story in The Press noted that Mayor Boatwright had proclaimed this week as "Planned Parenthood Week in Ypsilanti". But he hadn't!

It seems a City Hall clerk routinely applied his stamped signature to the printed form proclamation from the sponsoring Planned Parenthood League without the mayor's knowledge. The signature stamp has now been placed under lock and key.

The mayor is an Episcopalian father of four children, and lives next-door to a family of 11.

One suggestion turned in to the Chamber of Commerce for a new Ypsilanti slogan is: "Only the tipsy short-sell Ypsi."

The Chamber is seeking a new slogan — short, catchy and to the point — to extoll the benefits, virtues and bright future of the Ypsilanti area. For many years the slogan has been, "Where Commerce and Education Meet."

Pass your suggestions on for a new slogan and-or logo to the Chamber.

For those planning on driving anywhere in Michigan this year, a bill just passed by the Senate should be of especial interest. The bill, if also passed in the House, would allow hauling of mobile home and modular housing units up to 14 feet in width and perhaps 85 feet in length.

Pressure for adoption of the bill has come from the $95 million mobile home manufacturing industry, which says other states permit such wide loads so why can't Michigan. At present the legal width limit in Michigan is 10 feet, 5 inches, although special permits are given for widths up to 12 feet.

With a width of 14 feet, the mobile home or modular housing unit would be from 2 to 4 feet wider than the traffic lanes on existing state roads and interstate highways. As one traffic safety expert commented this week, what would happen if two such 14-foot units met on a highway going in opposite directions?

The Automobile Club of Michigan adds another note of interest to Michigan drivers: if you have studded snow tires on your vehicle, they must by law be removed by April 30.

Also, the Auto Club reminds, don't forget when zipping down the highway that snow tires or other replacement tires larger in diameter than factory-installed tires mean your vehicle is actually traveling faster than shown on the speedometer.

The deviation can mean that, with a reading of 60 miles per hour on the speedometer, your vehicle is actually traveling at 67 mph.

An editor's outlook

Rails relieve days of watching land at horseback level

Last weekend, as dusk gathered over the endless ranchlands of northern New Mexico, I sat at dinner on the Super Chief across from a charming lady from Detroit who admitted she was afraid to fly.

"I used to like airplanes," she said, "but for no reason — I never had a really bad flying experience — this phobia gradually crept up on me, and now I get sweats when I even think of taking off."

You might say the lady was a hard-core train rider. Her choice lay between taking the train, a bus, her private car or staying home.

And I am a soft-core train rider — one who grows weary of watching a featureless blue-brown America roll beneath him at 35,000 feet and who, when a weekend presents itself, sometimes seizes the opportunity to see what this great land really looks like from a Pullman window.

There are many more airplane-phobia victims than one might suspect. Most of them are not as honest as the lady from Detroit. They come up with elaborate excuses for being groundlings.

But it is axiomatic that if long-distance railroad service in America is to survive, there are going to have to be enough hard-core and soft-core railroad riders to keep it alive.

For, aside from the joys inherent in a good train and the fascination of watching this endlessly-varied land unfold at horseback level, there are no other advantages.

The train is no longer measurably safer than the commercial plane. Daycoach fares are only slightly cheaper and Pullman fares substantially more expensive than air fares. For an appreciable distance trains take longer — usually a lot longer. You have to want to ride a train.

This wanting has been put to severe test in recent years, due to the combined stupidity of regulatory bodies and some railroad managements. Because the regulators generally refused to allow a railroad to divest itself of a losing train unless it could prove horrendous losses, many head office strategists insured the required losses by making the service as awful as possible. The price in public good will — good will which the carriers desperately need in the face of their real economic problems — was incalculable.

Until last year it seemed certain that the American passenger train would go the way of the canal boat and stagecoach. Then last October, Congress passed and the President signed a bill to set up a National Railroad Passenger Corp. (Railpax) which would preserve a skeleton rail network between 21 pairs of major American travel centers.

In 1929, there were 20,000 daily passenger trains in America. Now there are fewer than 400. Railpax would cut the number in half again, but out of the pool of 3,200 existing cars, it would select 1,300 to 1,500 of the newest and best. All long-distance trains would carry diners, sleepers and lounge cars.

Planned is a centralized reservation bureau, reachable by toll-free calls and efficient little stations to replace the crumbling monuments.

Will Railpax work? It will almost certainly have success in the short-haul, high-density corridors like Boston-New York, New York-Washington, Chicago-Milwaukee or even Chicago-St. Louis. There the superhighways are already overcrowded, parking prohibitive and journeys to and from airports time-consuming.

But the long-haul is a question. No railroad men serve on the Railpax board, but Charles Luna, head of the United Transportation Union, does. Luna has threatened a nationwide rail strike over his refusal to modify ancient work rules — rules that required 11 different engine crews to get the California Zephyr from Chicago to San Francisco, and helped bust her. If Railpax becomes a make-work project for the brotherhoods it won't last long.

Still, there are few joys left in life equal to falling asleep in pine trees and waking up to palms or following the steepening water courses to the tunnel at the crest or spinning across seas of corn and oceans of wheat.

If enough of us who love trains join hands with the fraidy cats, we might save a few of America's grand railroad voyages.

But don't bet on it.

Bees both dangerous, a blessing

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Bees are both a blessing and a danger to man says Carl E. Killion, who has been superintendent of the division of apiary inspection for 33 years in Illinois.

"Life on this planet would be almost impossible without the honey bee," he said. However, he warned, "More Americans are killed by members of the bee family than by snakes and spiders combined."

Killion estimated that the honey bee added at least $50 million to agriculture in Illinois in 1969. He said they pollinate more than 50 kinds of food and farm crops.

But for all the good he does, the bee is a member of the insect group hymenoptera (bees, wasps, hornets, ants) which caused 50 per cent of 460 deaths from bites and stings observed in a 10-year study. An allergic reaction to insect venom can vary from minor itching to death. Symptoms may range from dizziness to headaches, abdominal cramps and extreme nausea, Killion said.

'Fill up downtown!'

I agree with Anna Wolfe: Why not the hotel for senior citizens?

Or why do we see just "ghost windows" or the upper floors of most downtown buildings? Why not use them, if only to present an "alive look"? Why continue to spoil our township with apartment buildings when these downtown buildings could be used?

We expect apartments in a city.

Why do we continue to drive people away from downtown with parking meters? How can anyone feel like making a decision on a purchase when he has to keep his mind on the parking time?

'A womanned U.N.?'

Awhile back you ran a story about a woman driver who intended to turn left. Finding her left-turn signal indicator defective, she used the right-turn signal to prove that, as a responsible driver, she intended to turn.

Following was a literal-minded male who, upon seeing the right-turn signal blinking away, started passing on the left. Just a position ensued. The story ended with the attending officers trying to comprehend her explanation. It recalls the title "From Here to Eternity."

A generation ago I was downtown in "Black Beauty", a special 4-door convertible I kept in mint condition. I was ready to back into a parking space when a woman in an old battered heap serenely sidestepped me and continued on. I jumped out and overtook her. "My good woman, are you aware that you've just reduced the entire side of my car to modern art?" She became unfriendly and, with surfeit decibels, intoned: "I'll have you know that I've been driving 20 years and have never been in a wreck yet!" At the moment she was solidly seated in one. She ground into low, jerked forward and shuddered on down the street with the steady purposefulness of a battleship. Subject dismissed.

My wife once asked what I thought of her new sofa. "It's nice," I said, "what was wrong with the old one?" "Nothing," she replied. "Then why did you buy a new one?" "Because I got tired of looking at it." An extension of this peculiarly feminine aberration can induce disquieting thoughts.

Have you ever considered the future of this species were the United Nations manned — beg your pardon — womanned by females?

It's enough to dry-freeze the blood.

'Open mouths' hit

Lincoln's proposed millage failed. Many disturbing events have occurred since the last successful one in 1968. Two principals have resigned and the contract of another has not been renewed. The state assessment tests received a poor rating, and negotiations have been long and difficult.

A board member remarked, "Some kids do not have sense enough to know how to dress." How, then, can parents of these same senseless kids understand the needs of the school district?

The faculty and student-designed dress code was placed on the ballot as no dress code. Wigs cannot be worn, "for sanitary reasons." This should be written into the dress code, and also apply to female students. Recently, in a disagreement between two girls, a wig was snatched from the head of one. I have yet to see the wig that can distinguish the sex of the one who is wearing it. Wigs are practical, concealing long hair, bald spots and are invaluable as disguises for those determined to play detective.

The principal announced the necessity to trap the students and by so doing, not only warned the enemy but gave students the opportunity to lay traps of their own. How many students can or will resist the temptation to place innocent objects, disguised as objectionable ones, in their lockers?

Good generals never reveal their strategy. Imagine the consternation of an enemy confronted with a sign reading: "Caution, this area defended by 25,731 fully armed men, proceed at your own risk!"

I have a deeper appreciation for the top military personnel who, when planning "D-Day", had the good sense to keep their mouths shut.

'Conserve our water'

Spring is here at last, so the calendar says. Small streams for miles around pour fresh clean water into our once-beautiful Huron. What a crime, for now it is lined for miles with sewer disposal plants. Politicians claim, which no doubt is true, it's cheaper to pollute our beautiful river than join the Wayne interceptor.

For the younger generation who never knew, once upon a time the Huron was used for swimming, there were plenty of game fish, canoeing was a pleasure. In the long run, the way this area is expanding, which will be the creapest — bringing water from Lake Huron or sending our sewage through Wayne County, then damming some of our own water right in our own back yard?

The last couple of years we have been lucky to have had plenty of rainfall. How many remember back in '34 when we had no rain for three months, until about mid-August? The pastures and lawns were like deserts, thousands of acres of corn never showed a tassel and choice beef on the hoof dropped from 10 to 3 cents a pound.

I don't like to be an alarmist, but let's face it; it could happen again. Now's the time to plan to conserve our local water supply, for you never miss the water 'til the well's run dry.

'The people must speak'

In regards to the vast concern about welfare abuses, it is one thing to constantly complain about welfare abuses. But it is another thing to figure out a way to correct them. Therefore, before any major welfare abuses will be corrected, the voices of many concerned Americans all over the country will have to be heard on the national level.

For this is where the welfare funds are. Consequently, the pressure felt by Congress must be sufficient to move it in the right direction. However, Congress is faced with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare — a powerful and often hard-to-control agency. This is true particularly when it comes to belt-tightening changes. Consequently, only the voice of the people will get the needed federal changes.

Casualties high in Pakistan war

NEW DELHI (AP) — With casualties mounting, Pakistani troops, moving to crush a rebellion in East Pakistan, battled militiamen and civilians in several cities today and Radio Pakistan announced the province's leader Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, was under arrest.

But Sheikh Mujib later broadcast over a clandestine radio that he was still free and urged East Pakistanis to keep up their fight for independence.

The broadcast claimed the Pakistan air force was dropping bombs on "liberation fighters." The United News of India said the army was using tanks.

Monitors in India quoted Sheikh Mujib as saying he was in the port city of Chittagong, which unconfirmed reports reaching India said was in control of the Sheikh's Awami League.

Reports carried by Indian news agencies said casualties on both sides in the bloody civil war already run into the thousands.

United News said heavy fighting was raging throughout the province for the second straight day.

The Indian news agency said at least 50 persons were killed in Saidpur and that the streets of Rangpur were strewn with bodies of civilians.

A Radio Pakistan broadcast claimed the West Pakistan-dominated army was gaining the upper hand in its battle against East Pakistani loyalists and militiamen. It said martial law authorities in Dacca lifted for a nine-hour period from 7 a.m. local time today the 24-hour curfew imposed on the East Pakistan capital Friday.

United News reported from the Indian border town of Angartala that the army had occupied the headquarters of the East Pakistan Rifles, the provincial militia, in Comilla district after a prolonged fight. In another report from the eastern Indian state of Assam, it said that according to highly reliable reports from across the Pakistani border, at least 180 persons were killed early today in a clash between the army and East Pakistanis in the city of Comilla.

Nixon to announce anti-inflation plan for construction

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources say President Nixon will announce Monday a plan for stabilizing wage and establishing complex inflation - fighting machinery in the construction industry.

The plan will stop short of a national price-wage stabilization board. But it will be another step toward the wage-guideline approach Nixon's economic advisers have counseled against using to combat inflation, even in an industry in which costs are soaring.

In the executive order calling on the construction industry to carry its own fight against inflation, Nixon also will reinstate the Davis-Bacon Act, the sources say.

That law, setting union-scale wage standards on federal construction projects, was suspended by the President last month in a move to control the industry's wage-price spiral.

Public members of the Construction Industry Collective Bargaining Commission recommended Friday that Nixon set wage criteria and establish craft-by-craft review boards to oversee wage movements and a wage stabilization board for enforcement action.

The wage standards would center around the level of pay raises negotiated in the mid-1960s and take into account cost-of-living changes.

If any part of the industry does not submit to self-regulation, administration sources say, the White House will consider suspending Davis-Bacon again and withholding construction projects from the offenders.

Meanwhile, the Commerce Department reported Friday

the government's leading economic indicators rose by six-tenths of one per cent last month to a record 118.6 per cent of the 1967 base year. Observers termed it a moderate gain.

Increase in gas rate confirmed

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Public Service Commission has confirmed a $9.2 million interim gas rate increase it approved for Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. earlier this year.

At the same time, the commission authorized the utility to increase rates by an additional $2.73 million a year, effective Friday, bringing the total increase to $11.93 million.

Commission Chairman Willis Ward said the average customers will be paying about one per cent more a year for gas under the new rates than 10 years ago.

Ward said the two increases amount to $6.5 million less than the company asked for last July.

The $9.2 million interim rate increase has been in effect since Jan. 11 when the commission found the utility was experiencing a minimum revenue deficiency of that amount.

The order Friday stipulated that Michigan Consolidated must give rebates to its customers and reduce rates in the event the Federal Power Commission issues an order reducing the wholesale rates the company pays for gas.

EMU Library is donated 8,000 items

Gifts and contributions of money, books and other materials in the last year have netted the Eastern Michigan University Library more than 8,000 items.

Mrs. M. Thelma McAndless, president of Friends of the Library announced the largest gift came from University Microfilms which consisted of microfilmed dissertations and Xeroxed copies of rare and out-of-print books.

Other gifts include $500 from Mrs. Fred J. Ericson, formerly of Ypsilanti, which purchased draperies and a carpet for the Fred J. Ericson Seminar Room; books valued at $350 from Carl Anderson retired EMU vice-president; $280 from the EMU Alumni Association for the purchase of Ovid's "Metamorphoses", $50 from the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor Altrusa Club; $38 from the Music Department faculty and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Parris for the purchase of a book in memory of Mr. Parris' sister and another in memory of the father of Professor Oscar Henry and $10 from Carl W. Lord for purchase of a book in the social sciences.

A painting valued at $50 from Mr. and Mrs. David K. Maxfield, a collection of music scores from Mrs. James R. Breaker, Jr., 110 items valued at $125 from Prof. Robert L. Anderson, 48 items from Prof. Allan R. Schwarz, several books on taxation contributed by Mrs. Nathan O. Fairchild, four books on economics and chemistry from Mrs. Michael Dzien, and a book by the late Prof. Benjamin W. D'Ooge

"Elements of Latin," from Mrs. J. Leslie French.

Ben J. Sovey contributed a rare and out-of-print book, Sturtevant's "Notes on Edible Plants."

Robert Bingham Downs, dean of Library Administration at the University of Illinois, will be the guest speaker at the second annual dinner meeting of Friends of the Library April 28 at 6:30 p.m. in McKenny Union.

The dinner is open to the public. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Barbara Cowan at 487-0169. Tickets are $4.50 each. Membership in Friends of the Library is extended to any person making a contribution of $10 or more.

Field jackets please Europe's leftists

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — It looked like clearance day in the bargain basement.

German youths crowded around a sales table in a Frankfurt clothing shop, eagerly seizing castoff U.S. Army field jackets that were rumpled, frayed, and stained. A pretty salesgirl was asked why the coats are worn by tens of thousands of leftist-oriented Western European youths. She shrugged and said, "Field jackets are the fashion, and who can explain fashion?"

Gerd Boehner, the 25-year-old shop manager, had a more philosophical explanation for the booming business in olive drab.

"The young man—the so-called hippie—doesn't want to look fine or stylish. He wants inexpensive, all-purpose durable clothing," he said, "and he also wants to express his rejection of conventional clothing, the suit and tie and sportswear."

Boehner said he began buying the coats in bulk from U.S. military clothing disposal centers in West Germany in 1968. He has them cleaned and patched, then sells them for $4.50.

According to figures supplied by the U.S. military, over 30,000 discarded jackets and parkas were sold by competitive bids last year in Europe.

"I sell very many surplus coats," Boehner said. "I suppose ship loads of jackets wouldn't be enough to satisfy the demands in Europe."

S. Schapira, owner of a Frankfurt shop specializing in American western style clothing, sells factory new Army parkas and field jackets he imports directly from U.S. manufacturers.

"I sell about 60 coats a month at about $19 each. I can't get enough of them," he said.

"The other day an Austrian shop owner asked me to wholesale him 500 jackets. Well, I laughed. You can't get 500 jackets, and I know because I go to the States twice a year to hunt them up," Schapira added.

The market in field jackets isn't limited to West Germany. Clothing sellers in London, Amsterdam and Copenhagen reported similar sales successes in the surplus coats.

In London, where olive green is as "in" as any Paris fashion, one dealer spoke of a "craze that has swept the country. I think people feel that if they (the coats) are good enough to be supplied to the Army they must be good enough to combat the English winter."

British retailers are so hard pressed to meet the demands for surplus jackets that they are importing copies of the coats from Hong Kong.

In Amsterdam, thousands of Dutch youths are paying about $6 for threadbare field jackets and about $20 for parkas with imitation fur linings.

In addition to the surplus dealers, the Dutch Army is an important supplier of the green jackets. It sends away each conscript with two of them.

Although Oslo youths now prefer sporty blue or beige parkas and padded coats made in Scandinavia, retailers say the city's truck drivers and warehousemen are steady buyers of Army surplus parkas for winter work clothing.

In Copenhagen, surplus coats reached their fashion zenith about three years ago at the height of the peace-march era. Danish youths still favor olive drab for summer wear, retailers report, but campers and hunters are emerging as significant consumers of surplus jackets and sleeping bags.

At one Copenhagen surplus shop, youthful wearers of Army coats called the discarded military garments "wonderfully non-fashion" and emphasized their low prices and practicality.

Surprisingly little is made of the obvious symbolism of the coats by the left-leaning youths who favor them.

Antoine Ochoiski, a 22-year-old Parisian who peddles his handmade earrings and necklaces in the streets of Frankfurt, insisted "we wear the coats because we are laughing at the military."

Werner Richter, a 21-year-old Frankfurt economics student, echoed most of those questions when he said practically is the most important factor. "You can throw the coats into a corner, sit on them and use them for a blanket in the grass," he said.

Denim jackets are worn by both Beatle Paul McCartney and his wife as they arrive with their family at Heathrow Airport in London. McCartney, now clean-shaven, carried his 2-year-old daughter, Mary. Next to his wife, Linda, is Heather, her 9-year-old daughter by a previous marriage. They came from Los Angeles, Calif. (AP Photo)

Need notions, patience:

Artistic egg creations provide Easter decor

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — The Easter rabbit has a lot of competition from Rita Damone, whose imaginatively decorated eggs rival anything the bunny has in his holiday basket.

With hollow eggshells, scissors, white adhesive and odds and ends from notions counters, fabric shops and 10-cent stores, plus infinite patience, Mrs. Damone fashions colorful and sparkling ornaments.

"I never know when I start just how it's going to come out," she explained as her flying fingers transformed a large white egg into a sequined, flowered and gold-braid-decked piece of art. "I just let my imagination run wild."

Among the showpieces this imagination has produced is a set of zodiac eggs. Each of the dozen has the inclusive dates in tiny gold decal letters; the symbol cut from a large silver sequin; the flower of the month; and the gem of the month, which is matched by a velvet band the color of the stone.

Another group is made up of four eggs representing the seasons. Spring shows tiny flowers, an umbrella and silver sprinkles for rain; summer features plastic roses with velvet leaves and a bluebird snipped from a sequin; for fall there are sequin leaves in all colors; and multishaped sequin snowflakes adorn the winter scene.

One egg with a contemporary motif has the word "love" spelled out in tiny beads, each one put on separately with a toothpick dipped in glue. On others rhinestones simulate dew on flowers. And many of the eggs have bands of sequins edged in gold or silver braid.

"I used to have to glue each sequin separately," Mrs. Damone says, "but recently they started making strip sequins of different colors and widths with a peel-off back."

She keeps her eyes open for items she can use and has found stores specializing in buttons a good source of supply. She buys plastic flowers in the dime store and cuts them down to the size and shape she needs. Other work material includes tubes of seed pearls, bugle beads, sequins and glass gems; cards of gold and silver braid of various widths; yards of variegated ribbons, and boxes of hors d'oeuvre toothpicks topped by small plastic flowers.

Mrs. Damone, who has two married daughters and four grandchildren, started her hobby when one of her daughters gave her a decorated red egg as a present a few Easters back.

"I don't even think it was made from a real egg and when I found out that it cost about $1.50 I was shocked," she recalls. "I thought I could do better than that myself."

First, she takes a jumbo-size white egg and makes holes at either end—one a little larger than the other—with short pointed scissors. She blows through the smaller hole and the contents come out through the larger hole. Then she rinses the egg, letting a trickle of cold water run through, shakes it a few times and sets it aside to dry.

She leaves many eggs white, but if she wants colored ones she uses regular Easter Egg dye, dipping them until the desired color is reached. A strip of adhesive-backed sequins put on lengthwise covers the two holes.

"It's an inexpensive hobby and I find it extremely relaxing," she says. "Whenever I'm under tension this is what I do, and once I get started everything else is out of my mind as I concentrate on making it come out the way I want it to."

She can make as many as three or four eggs in one evening and works on them throughout the year, but steps up her production before Easter. For the holiday she piles them all into a terrarium and uses them as a centerpiece. She claims they are not as delicate as they look and of the many she has made she has only broken three.

The contents of the eggs she uses go into scrambled eggs, breaded veal cutlets and other dishes, but Mrs. Damone admits she likes decorating eggs more than eating them. "I'm really not that crazy about eggs," she declares.

Program slated on yoga

Election of officers and a Yoga program is planned for the Armed Forces Officers' Wives Club meeting Monday.

The group will meet at 8 p.m. at the Ann Arbor Federal building at Huron Pkwy. and Platt Rd. in Ann Arbor.

The semi-annual election will be conducted, with no absentee balloting to be allowed. Voting will begin at 7:30 and will be conducted by Mrs. Ramon Wilkins of Ann Arbor, vice president.

The yoga demonstration will be given by Barbara Lindeman. Members are asked to come in casual clothes and bring a pillow or mat so they may participate.

Augusta fund-raising party set

A fund-raising party is planned by the Augusta Ladies Auxiliary of the Augusta Township Fire Department for tomorrow.

Two sessions of the Stanley party are set for 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. at the Lincoln Community Church at the corner of Whittaker and Willis Rds.

Proceeds will go toward purchase of gifts for convalescent homes.

HELOISE'S HINTS

Foil pan makes pie guide

By HELOISE

Dear Heloise: Can't cut a pie into equal pieces?

Well, I noticed that some of the aluminum pie pans have six ridges on the bottom. So I slit the pan on these ridges, then widened the slot to allow for a table knife.

Place the pan over the top of your cool pie, slip the table knife through the slots and mark the pie into equal pieces. Then remove the pan and finish cutting. Comes out just right... Glendon Pruner

Takes a man to figure out a mechanical solution to this kind of problem, right?

Now, Moms, try this and see if the children will be satisfied that one of them doesn't have a piece of pie just a little bit bigger than the other! Heloise

Dear Heloise: I thought your readers might be interested in some of the money-saving tricks my husband and I used while he was in service.

We had to move often and since most apartments have basic neutral color schemes, I used bottles filled with colored water and decorative candles to add color inexpensively. In this way, touches of color could be changed from time to time without much added expense.

For small potted plants in my kitchen, I used old coffee mugs instead of pots. These could also be changed with each new kitchen to give an entirely new look.

Dear Heloise: Quite some time ago you had a hint on carrying deviled eggs in an egg carton lined with wax paper. May I suggest my method which is a bit quicker, plus a way to prepare the eggs which is a little different from most.

First, I cut the two tips off the hard-boiled eggs to allow a flat surface for standing on end, then I cut the eggs crosswise instead of lengthwise, and use the tips to blend with the deviled yolks.

I place a strip of plastic wrap across the bottom section of a cardboard egg carton and set a deviled egg half in each section. No need to line them one at a time. I turn down the lid, snap on a rubber band and my eggs travel safely.

Cartons may be easily stacked and carried, and the eggs stay pretty as a picture! "Poppa"

Dear Heloise: Here's how I have made a hit with the kiddos...

I take those small plastic cleanser containers that come four in a pack in different colors and use them, when empty, as pen and pencil holders for each child.

Just remove the tops and they make such neat little holders on their desks. Helen Hreha

Dear Heloise: You can make an old stuffed toy or doll more interesting by cutting it open and inserting an animal crier. These are small noise cylinders purchased at most dime stores and they make a sound when turned upside down. So, if carefully inserted, they will cry when the doll is turned over.

Carefully sew the doll back up to avoid a big "scar." Some dolls have a battery cavity which will hold two small ten-cent cylinders. One of my daughter's dolls had been battery operated to cry but some of the wiring inside had broken.

Be sure to place the noise-makers in small plastic bags before inserting them so that the stuffing inside the animal or doll cannot get into them.

The kitten noise seems to sound the best for a doll. There are sheep and cow sounds, depending on what kind of an animal you might have made. Mrs. Bruce Presley

DEAR ABBY:

Perfect mother-in-law becomes 'talky granny'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
 Dear Abby:

I have a mother-in-law problem, but not the usual kind. She is not meddlesome, gossipy or anything like that. She is practically perfect — or she was, until 18 months ago when her daughter (my wife) made a grandmother of her. Now I realize that all grandmothers think their grandchildren are the cutest, smartest, prettiest, etc., but my mother-in-law has overdone it until I want to gag. She carries dozens of pictures with her and shoves them under everybody's nose whether he is interested or not. And, no one has a chance to talk about anything else when she's around. It is positively nauseating. She bores everyone to tears with her "granny" talk. I have sat in a group wanting to crawl under the carpet when she takes off about "my" grandchild. The worst part of it is, she doesn't realize how sickening it is to others.

How can I let this other-wise dear, sweet woman know that everyone is not as eager to listen to her "granny" talk as she is to spout it?

Embarrassed in Atlanta
 Dear Embarrassed:
 What's wrong with telling her?

Dear Abby:
 My boyfriend has been after me to prove my love. I tried to tell him what you said in an article about this, but it didn't come out right. If you can remember what you said, I would very much appreciate seeing it in your column. I am 15. Sign me . . .

"Weakening"
 Dear Weakening:
 Here it is: Girls need to "prove their love" through illicit sex relations like a moose needs a hatrack. Why not "prove your love" by sticking your head in the oven and turning on the gas? Or playing leap-frog out in traffic? It's about as safe. Any fellow who asks you to "prove your love" is trying to take you for the biggest, most gullible fool who ever walked. That proving bit is one of the oldest and rottenest lines ever invented!

Does he love you? It doesn't sound like it. Someone who loves you wants what is best for you. But now figure it out: He wants you to surrender your virtue. Throw away your self-respect. Risk the loss of your precious reputation. And risk getting into trouble and hurting yourself and hurting your family.

Does that sound as though he wants what's best for you? That's the laugh of the century: He wants what's best for him. . . and he wants a thrill he can brag about at your expense.
 Love? Who's kidding whom? A boy who really loves a girl would sooner cut off his right arm than hurt her. If you want my opinion, this self-serving so-and-so has already proved that he doesn't love you. (P.S. It wasn't an "article," it was from my book, "Dear Teenager.")

Dear Abby:
 My husband (I'll call him Mel) is an excellent dancer. Recently while we were attending a dinner-dance, an acquaintance, sitting at another table, sent a note over to Mel requesting that he dance with his wife, Mel danced with her.

Later on, another man came over and told Mel that his wife was "dying" to dance with him. So Mel danced with her.

The men who asked my husband to dance with their wives did not ask me to dance, so while Mel was dancing I was left sitting alone at our table. Do you care to comment?

Crushed Wallflower
 The men who recruited your husband for their wives should have had the good manners to ask you to dance. But since they didn't, your husband should have suggested it. A gentleman does not leave his lady sitting alone while he dances.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to Abby in care of The Press. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

YOUR HEALTH:

By DR. LESTER COLEMAN
 Sickle cell anemia is a hereditary condition whose exact cause is still unknown. The name is derived from the peculiar sickle shape of the red blood cells, which is readily recognized when blood is examined under the microscope.

In the Journal of the A. M. A., Dr. Lewis Barreras and Dr. Lemuel W. Diggs of the University of Tennessee College of Medicine in Memphis reported a new way to alleviate episodes of pain and fever in sickle cell anemia. They have found that an alkaline drug can reverse the process of blood sickling and relieve its discomfort.

In more than 30 cases, relief was dramatic and long lasting.

Experimental animals have been vaccinated against certain types of leukemia. Successful cases have been reported by Dr. Ludwik Gross of the Bronx Veterans Administration Hospital in New York City.

The American Cancer Society, which supports — through scientific grants — basic research in cancer, is enthusiastic about the possible application of this work to humans. Eventually it is hoped that immunization against leukemia will be possible.

As long as such basic scientific studies are encouraged, there is hope that this type of blood cancer will eventually be controlled.

Philadelphia Phil

Dear Phil:
 Tell that dust bowl refugee that they were drilling oil wells and playing football in Pennsylvania before the Texans discovered the Alamo didn't have a back door. Texans send half their millionaires to Washington to protect the tax dodgers of the other half and also to learn some table manners. There's only one reason for owning a ten-gallon hat and that's to cover a ten-gallon mouth.

Stan

Dear Mr. Sanders:
 I've been a good wife for 15 years and don't believe my husband appreciates it. I wash and iron his clothes, keep the house spotless, and serve as hostess when his friends come for the weekly poker party. I even helped paint the house last summer. He still complains. I only have two arms and legs, so what can I do?

Mildred

Dear Mildred:
 They say arm and leg transplants are in the offing. Therefore, you might get a couple more sewed on.

DR. BROTHERS:

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

How much do you know about the attitudes of today's young students? If you feel you're up on the "now" generation, here's your chance to prove it.

- Recent studies indicate that almost half of today's high school students are marijuana users. True—False—
- There is a much higher percentage of students dropping out of college in the past few years than at previous times. True—False—
- Students from the East and West Coasts are likely to be more permissive on questions of sex than are those from other sections. True—False—
- College students are more likely to commit suicide than are young people of comparable age outside of school. True—False—

5. Most students feel that the differences between their own views and those of their parents are very great. True—False—

6. If teen leaders could pass a bill to legalize abortion they would. True—False—

7. According to a survey made of 22,000 of American's teen leaders, their most complete sex education is gained in the class room. True—False—

1. False. Although marijuana users are increasing at most high schools, when high school leaders were interviewed only about 10 per cent said they currently used marijuana, 22 per cent said they approved marijuana use, and 21 per cent said they would use it if it were legal.
 2. False. Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, the Harvard psychiatrist, reports that the percentage of college dropouts changed very little since his first study were begun 40 years ago. Of the students entering college 40 per cent will graduate; 20 per cent will drop out but re-enroll elsewhere and 40 per cent will drop out and not resume their studies.

3. True. A recent survey conducted by the Merit Publishing Co. producers of Merit's "Who's Who Among American High School Students," showed that on questions pertaining to drugs and communal living, students from both the East and West Coasts were up to three times more permissive than their counterparts from the Midwest, South and Southwest.

4. True. The suicide rate among college students is somewhat higher than that in noncollege groups of the same age. The rate fluctuates between 5 and 7.2 suicides per 100,000 students in the last decade. College stresses are of little significance and 90 per cent of the students who attempt or threaten suicide have been previously recognized as suicidal.

5. False. And this can make one wonder about the so-called "generation gap." In a survey conducted for Fortune by Daniel Yankelovich, Inc., a majority of students interviewed felt the differences between their values and those of their parents were only "moderate."

6. True. Sixty-nine per cent of the high school students questioned in a poll conducted by the Merit Publishing said they favored legalization of abortion. Yet when those favoring legalization were asked whether they would approve an abortion involving them personally, 26 per cent of the boys said no and 19 per cent of the girls said no and 20 per cent declined to answer.

7. False. Two of every five students said their most complete understanding of sex came from friends.

What's at the movies tonight

"COLD TURKEY:" (GP) A contemporary comedy, pegged to the timely premise of town which becomes possessed by greed as it strains to win a 30-day no-smoking prize for $25 million offered by a tobacco manufacturer.

Dick Van Dyke stars as an ambitious small-town parson who sees advancement in lining up local support for a prize offered by tobacco tycoon, Edward Everett Horton.

The campaign is the idea of public relations expert Bob Newhart whose rationale is the world remembers Alfred Nobel for his Peace Prize, and not as the inventor of dynamite and of lethal war munitions from which he made his fortune. He assures everybody in the company no town could possibly live up to the requirements set down. — Wayside.

"PRIEST'S WIFE:" (GP) Marcello Mastroianni stars as a Catholic priest torn between love of a woman and love of his church; the struggle between the man and his conscience makes this movie a comedy.

Sophia Loren is jilted by her boyfriend and engages him in a duel — the weapons being Italian minicars. Although she wins, she calls one of those "helping hand" phone services that provide instant psychotherapy. Marcello is on the other end of the line.

They meet, fall in love and venture into society as a brother and sister. He thinks about cutting the bonds of his vows. — Quo Vadis, Penthouse I.

"LOVERS AND OTHER STRANGERS:" (R) The plot involves two kids (Michael Brandon and Bonnie Bedelia) who have lived together for a year and finally decide to get married.

Her family provides them a stylish wedding but set a terrible example. Father (Gig Young) is carrying on with mother's best friend (Anne Jackson). Brother (Joseph Hindy) and sister-in-law (Diane Keaton) are determined to divorce.

The groom's father (Richard Castellano) explains he has never really been happy with his wife, while a bridesmaid fights off the advances of a lecherous usher and the bride's sister argues the virtues of feminine equality with her male-chauvinist husband. — Algier's Drive-In.

"THE WILD COUNTRY:" (G) Steve Forrest, Vera Miles and Ronny Howard star as members of the Tanner family who move from Pittsburgh to Jackson Hole, Wyo., in the 1880's.

The family reworks the land, struggles for water rights and fights a cyclone and a fire. The screen-play is based on "Little Britches" by Ralph Moody. — Wayne Drive-In.

Senator's wife plays piano on Williams' show

By CHARLES WITBECK

King Features Syndicate

HOLLYWOOD — NBC may be cancelling Andy Williams Saturday hour, but cool Andy is going out with a touch of class tonight when Mrs. Edward Kennedy, wife of the Massachusetts Senator, makes her national television debut at the piano.

With a cookie-begging bear for a star, crazies like Cass Elliot and the William Weiridos running about, the idea of a Kennedy rattling off Debussy's "Arabesque No. 1" on the keyboards, had the crew up a notch on the Burbank stage 3 recently.

Out comes the golden-haired guest to take her place at the great gilded grand piano perched under three chandeliers. A hush falls over the place as the guest warms up. Strange clinkers are heard and finally a middle C key sticks. Then conductor Henry Mancini steps in to announce the piano is out of tune, and the crew immediately rolls in a beaten up, black job which sounds all right.

Classical music is a novelty on the show.

"How long does it take to play?" was the first question Andy asked his guest concerning her Debussy solo.

"About four minutes and 30 seconds," Joan said.

Luckily, the elapsed time fit television's requirements. Anything over five minutes will tax an audience the pros believe.

Having played with the Boston Symphony Orchestra and the Philadelphia Symphony, Joan Kennedy was up to a variety show taping. She ran through her "Arabesque" solo in one take, then had trouble in several more attempts against a blue instead of white backdrop before she was satisfied. Next came the "Theme from Love Story" with Andy singing, and Mancini conducting, and they all went through three takes without a fluff.

Back in her dressing room, wearing the host's green bathrobe, Joan relaxed and

MRS. TED (JOAN) KENNEDY

"... Kennedy clan's piano player" talked about her musical background. She is the Kennedy clan's piano player, the only musical member of the family, gifted with perfect pitch. She sits at the piano during Hyannisport gatherings, rolling off Irish tunes and Broadway musical hits. Joan never performed at the White House for President John Kennedy, but recalls his favorites — Jerome Kern tunes, Cole Porter melodies, Rodgers & Hammerstein's "South Pacific" and "The King and I."

Mrs. Kennedy began taking lessons at the age of seven, and has played all her life for pleasure mostly, claiming she never had the ambition or the discipline to become a concert pianist.

"I should practice daily, but I only play when I'm in the mood," she said. "If Ted's away, and the kids are in bed, I like to sit down and play for three or four hours."

Like Mother, the Kennedy children take music lessons, and Joan hopes her television appearance with Andy will renew the interest of her son, Teddy Jr., in the piano. The idea for Joan's guest spot sprouted last Christmas at Sun Valley, Idaho, when the Williams family, the Mancinis, Ethel Kennedy and her brood, and the Ted Kennedys spent the holidays skiing.

Since Joan had played in public at a Bedford-Stuyvesant benefit, and had appeared with two symphony orchestras, in addition to narrating "Peter and the Wolf" with the National Symphony Orchestra, Andy wanted her for a Williams show, and the two finally settled on an early March taping.

As the only real musical talent in the Kennedy clan, Joan quietly makes her presence felt in the Washington music world, working on the National Symphony Orchestra board, attending concerts, entertaining guests artists such as Van Cliburn and Arthur Rubinstein. Four days after her Williams taping, Mrs. Kennedy scheduled a reception for pianist Byron Janis after his Washington concert, with the Boston Symphony due the following week.

So hum an Irish jig, Andy: sing "Danny Boy," or "Ireland Will Be Ireland" and Teddy's wife will take it from there.

TV NOTES

By STEVEN H. SCHEUER
King Features Syndicate
Dear Steve: Was Roy Thinnies, who stars as "The Psychiatrist" on TV, the actor who played the lead in "The Invaders"?

He resembles the guy of "The Invaders" but he doesn't look as handsome, if you know what I mean. — S.K., Auburn Calif.

Answer: Roy Thinnies, currently of "The Psychiatrist," was the leading player in "The Invaders."

If he looks different, it might have something to do with getting older.

ROY THINNIES

Dear Steve: We were very unhappy with "The Psychiatrist" on TV, and we are Roy Thinnies fans who will buy most anything he is in. Is Roy Thinnies going to have a new series now that the dreadful "Psychiatrist" series is over?

We think he's a great TV actor and he should be given a good show. Even "The Invaders" didn't measure up to his talent. — V.B.D., Chico, Calif.

Answer: Roy Thinnies doesn't have a new TV series at the present time. He will be going the guest star route next season.

Dear Steven: I watch "The Who, What or Where Game" on TV and I like Art James, the show's host. Is he married and does he have any children?

He's so good looking and unlike many of the other game show hosts, who seem to be shouting all the time. — Mrs. G.M., Albany, New York

Answer: Art James and his wife, Jane, have two children, Jeffrey, 13, and Jennifer, 9.

Dear TV Notes: I am one of Barbra Streisand's biggest fans, and I flipped when I saw her in the movie "The Owl and the Pussycat" but I would like to know if she has given up TV altogether.

She used to be on at least once a season with a special but it's been some time since she has been on. What's the story? — B.C., Memphis, Tenn.

Answer: Barbra Streisand has been very busy doing nightclubs and films and she has not been able to put a TV special together.

"... isn't as handsome" However, there's talk that she will star in a TV special before this year is out.

Dear Steve: A friend of mine recently gave me such a hard time arguing with me about the part of Trixie in "The Honeymooners."

My stubborn friend tried to convince me that Jane Kean is the only actress who played the part but I say Audrey Meadows played the part long before Miss Kean. Which of us is right? — J.S., Bradenton, Florida

Answer: Neither of you is correct so you can go on being "bickering" buddies. Before Jane Kean portrayed Trixie in "The Honeymooners," the part was played for a number of years by Joyce Randolph. Audrey Meadows was Alice, Jackie Gleason's wife, before Shelia MacRae.

Dear Steve: Who played the role of Benny Goodman in the movie biography of the famed bandleader?

I say it was John Garfield but my friend says it was another actor. Which of us has the better memory? — E.F., Elizabeth, New Jersey Answer: Steve Allen, believe it or not, played the famous Benny Goodman in the film titled "The Benny Goodman Story." His wife was played by Donna Reed. The film is shown on TV.

(For an answer to your question about any TV program or actor, write to Steven H. Scheuer, TV Notes, in care of The Press).

Music

THE CONCERT BAND of Concordia Lutheran College will present a concert at 8 tomorrow evening in the gymnasium, 4090 Geddes Rd., Ann Arbor.

The program includes "The Fuge in G Minor" by J. S. Bach, "Gloria" by Martin Mailman, "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" by Richard Wagner, "Second Suite" by Robert E. Jager, "Haensel and Gretel" by E. Humperdinck, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" by Martin Luther, "Estompie" by Valcau Nel Nubel and "A Jubilant Overture" by Alfred Reed.

THE SIBERIAN DANCERS and Singers of Omsk will give the last concert in the dance series at the University of Michigan at 8:30 tonight in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor.

The ensemble has an entire corps of dancers, a mixed chorus, an instrumental group of bayan-accordions and balalaikas and comic bear-actors.

Trainer Bill Bowland was a 16-year-old apprentice jockey when he won the Kentucky Derby and Belmont Stakes with Middleground in 1950.

Dancing and singing in over 500 costumes created by the Bolshoi Theatre of Moscow and the Kirov Theatre of Leningrad, the Russian-Siberians are on a tour of 50 American cities.

Their program includes "The Troika Suite," "Green

Fields," "Siberian Bear Hunt," "The Omsk Polka," "This Holy Baikal," "Winter Revels Suite" and "Siberian Gallop and Quadrille."

Tickets are available at the office of the University Musical Society in Burton Tower, Ann Arbor.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

Veteran benefit limits should be noted

By LAWRENCE GALTON
Washington Star Syndicate

Trends and tip-offs: Each month now about 60,000 young veterans are returning home to civilian life. If there's one in your family, note time limits on benefits to which veterans are entitled. Some are relatively short: 90 days to apply to an employer to get back the job held before entering service and 120 days to convert group insurance to individual policy. The veteran has one year to apply for dental care and to obtain unemployment compensation, 8 years to complete college or other training with the aid of GI benefits of $175 monthly plus allowances for dependents; 10 years plus an extra year for each three months of service to get a VA-guaranteed home loan. (Veteran benefits: Additional information - for older as well as young veterans - can be found in a 66-page publication, Federal Benefits for Veterans and Dependents, VA Fact Sheet IS-1. It is available at 30c from Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. High risk insurance: If you couldn't get life insurance in the past because you were considered a health or occupational risk, you may find it possible how as many companies ease rules and actively seek "substandard" business. You may pay an extra premium, sometimes high but sometimes only a few dollars more per $1,000 of insurance. Even a man who has had cancer can get a policy if there has been no recurrence in five years; the added premium, about $15. per thousand. If cancer has not recurred for ten years, the extra may be greatly reduced. Even if you have severe high blood pressure you may get insurance because of new drug treatment. (High risk insurance: If you're a candidate for an extra-premium policy, it could pay to shop around. Extra premium rates may vary.)

Other conditions: Patients with diabetes or a duodenal ulcer are insurable. As for rates, a 50-year-old man, for example, pays $8 to $16 extra if he has diabetes, $2.50 to $5 if he has an ulcer. For a coronary, while the extra premium during the first year of recovery may run three times the standard rate, it drops no less than double after five years and gets progressively lower after that. Note, too: Health insurers relax rules so people with poor medical histories can get coverage. Usually there is a higher rate but some companies will issue policies at standard rates with a waiting period before benefits begin. Caring for clothes: Making clothes last longer pays more than ever these days. A good way to start is to finish anything that may have been overlooked at the factory.

Advise experts: pull any loose threads to the underside of a garment, then tie and snip them - and stitch loose hems and secure buttons that may otherwise be lost. Consider whether it might not be a good idea to use applique patches on work clothes and play clothes before they become worn, using them at knees and elbows, inside, for extra protection from the beginning. Make it a rule to rotate - dresses, suits shoes, just about everything. And between wearing, brush and spot clean garments.

IDEAS FOR ACTION NO. 5

Reduction of Property Taxes

The most pressing reform needed in our present tax structure is to lower property taxes. However, since the costs of education and city services will remain with us, other taxes must be substituted for the portion of property taxes used to support schools. I support Roy Smith's Fair Share proposal for shifting part of this burden to the state income tax. Further, a modest city income tax, also to be paid by non-city residents who work in the city, could be used to reduce property taxes still farther. User fees such as per capita charges for sewer services could also be substituted for part of the property tax.

Send your ideas or request for further information to Giles Carter, 1303 Grant St. Copies of previous IFA are also available.

NBA—Spencer Haywood feud is settled... or is it?

NEW YORK (AP) — The case of the National Basketball Association vs. Spencer Haywood has been settled ... or has it?

The NBA no sooner withdrew its court case against the Seattle SuperSonics and agreed to let Haywood play with them provided they may select a $200,000 fine than the Buffalo Braves indicated they team pay Haywood in Monday's college player draft.

The Braves asked U.S. Dist. Court Judge Warren J. Ferguson in Los Angeles, the man who ruled that Haywood could play with Seattle, for permission to draft Haywood.

Robert Gibbs, attorney for the Braves, said he wanted to know if such a draft would violate Judge Ferguson's earlier rulings in the case. Judge Ferguson, however, said he could not approve or deny the request until Haywood actually is drafted.

Gibbs said, "The NBA tells clubs that if you don't do well the first year, you'll get a higher draft choice and it will get higher as you continue not doing well." He added it was Buffalo's understanding that "nobody would take away stars outside of the draft system."

Gibbs said his request to Judge Ferguson transcends the Haywood issue and enters into the question of "if the NBA can deliver what it says it can deliver."

In announcing the end to the NBA's court case against Haywood Friday, NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy said, "All litigation now pending in reference to the Haywood-Seattle SuperSonics case in the Federal Court is to be immediately dismissed with prejudice." That term means the issue is legally dead.

However, the Denver Rockets of the rival American Basketball Association still have a breach of contract suit pending against Haywood and a $10-million damage suit against Seattle.

"This (the NBA action) does not affect our suits," said a Denver spokesman.

Haywood left the University of Detroit in his junior year and played last season with Denver, winning ABA Rookie of the Year honors. He had contract differences with the Rockets this season and jumped leagues to Seattle, playing in 33 games.

The crux of the NBA's case was its constitution and by-laws, which prohibit a club from signing a college player until his original class graduates. Haywood's class at Detroit will graduate this June.

Hurler with sad past impressive in EMU win

ANAHEIM, Calif. — " ... despite great promise."

The phrase out of the Eastern Michigan baseball fact book says all there really has been to tell about Bob Smoots' career as a Huron.

A big strong, hard-throwing righthander, Smoots was a little-used seventh or eighth man on Coach Ron Oestrike's national championship team of a year ago. He appeared in just two games and came up a winner against the University of Detroit despite getting shelled pretty good.

His total accumulation of work for the season was four innings and his ERA, a very unimpressive 9.00.

His career statistics are equally unimpressive: five games, nine innings and an ERA of 5.00.

So if there's one thing the senior from Riverview would undoubtedly like to forget about, it's that past career at Eastern Michigan that is summed up so aptly in those three words, "despite great promise."

And with a few more performances such as he has posted during the Hurons' expedition to California, forgetting the past is going to come easy for Bob Smoots.

Yesterday serves as a gleaming example. For Smoots hummed up a sparkling four-hit shutout — the Hurons' first of the spring — as Eastern buzzed past University of California, 4-0.

trip a bit more of a success than it had seemed it might be. Eastern is now 3-3 and on a two-game win streak heading into today's West Coast finale.

The Hurons will be battling for fifth place in the Orange County Invitational.

Smoots' pitching wasn't all that glittered yesterday for the Hurons. There was, for starters, a stunning triple play ignited by a stab of a line drive by second baseman Al McLaughlin. McLaughlin shuttled to shortstop Terry Collins for a double play and Collins went on to first baseman Rocky Roe for the triple.

Batting-wise, the Hurons shellshocked the Bears with a bit of early long-balling.

Roe delivered the first blow, a triple up the alley in right center, in the second inning. He scored on a ground out by Jeff Lowe.

Then, in the third, Collins doubled to left and scored on a McLaughlin triple down the leftfield line with two out. Dave Yeager punched a single to right to score McLaughlin.

The Hurons wrapped up the scoring in the eighth on a balk steal. With Bobby Holmes at third (a courtesy runner for Smoots) and McLaughlin at first with two out, both "broke," forcing losing pitcher Dick Moore into a balk.

California came out of the game 16-8.

Relay 'B' crown decked with Holly

A strong afternoon showing coupled with a balanced evening performance carried Holly to the Class B team title at the 17th annual Huron Relays Friday at Eastern Michigan's Bowen Field house.

The Flint-area school won the first two team relays of the day — the two mile and the distance medley — for its only over-all wins as it piled up 57 points, far outdistancing second place Ecorse which totaled 46 points. Third was Mansfield Malabar of Ohio with 34 points, followed by Mount Morris and Detroit Lutheran West which deadlocked for fourth with 27 points.

Last year's "B" titlist, Amherst Steele of Ohio, will compete in today's Class A action which gets underway at Bowen at 12:30 p.m.

As last year, existing meet records withstood the giant field in all but two events. In the mile, Carson City Crystal's Mike Burns lopped two seconds off Ken Coates' standard established in 1964 when he stopped the watch in 4:28 flat. The only other record went in the final event as Muskegon Oakridge's Dan Hackenberg, Brad McGrady, John Peabody and Martin McGrady shaved a second off Clyde, Ohio's 1968 mile relay effort with a 3:32.6 clocking.

Among Ypsilanti-area schools, Willow Run was the lone point scorer with a fourth-place tie in the high jump by Curley Gardner and an eighth-place tie in pole vault from Ron Brooks. The Flyers' 5½ points placed them 36th in the 63-team field.

Spartans ravage Rutgers

MIAMI (AP)—Michigan State put on a 16 hit performance Friday to down Rutgers and gain at least a first-place tie in the first round of the Hurricane Twin baseball tournament.

In other games Friday involving state teams, Western Michigan bowed before Florida A&M, 5-3 in Tallahassee and Michigan dropped a 2-1 contest to Wyoming at Phoenix.

Rob Ellis was the Spartan standout, collecting four hits, four runs, five runs batted in and a homer in four trips to the plate.

The game marked the fifth straight tournament triumph for the Spartans, who are now 5-1 overall in baseball.

Western, now 6-2 on the season, lost the game on a two-run double by Aames Aaron, younger brother of Atlanta Braves star Hank Aaron. Michigan, which wraps up its spring trip today, lost in the ninth on three two-out singles and a passed ball.

Coaches' confrontation

A smiling Johnny Wooden (left) has a warm word with a dour-faced Villanova coach, Jack Kraft, Friday as the two coaches completed final preparations for today's NCAA title game in Houston between Wooden's

Georgia storm cancels bat opener

A spring trip is designed to get a college baseball team out of the goop and uncertainty of dying winter.

That's the theory, anyway.

But, for Washtenaw Community College's baseball team, things aren't always so simple.

The Warriors, scheduled to play their opening double header of the season with Gainesville Junior College Sunday in Gainesville, Ga., received word Friday afternoon that the city is the unexpected beneficiary of a late snow storm.

"We got the call just before we were going to leave," Coach Larry Slepisky said. "We still aren't sure whether we'll be able to get in our doubleheader Monday or not." The Warriors are scheduled to meet Middle Georgia in twinbill Tuesday.

Thus the Warriors' bat debut is postponed, temporarily waylaid Slepisky's first competitive look at his new squad. Washtenaw returns only two regulars from last year's 31-6 club — pitcher John Baker and RBI leader Wendell Petty — but the Warrior coach suspects his new edition might be an improved product over last year's outfit.

Warriors' trip snowbound

"I'm sort of optimistic," Slepisky admitted. "We should be improved defensively — we've got more pitchers and excellent team speed — but I'm still not so sure about how well we can do."

One early spring problem for the Warriors will be lack of experience against teams who will have played as many as 16 games this year before they meet Washtenaw. Slepisky called both Middle Georgia and DeKalb, two early Warrior opponents, "outstanding Georgia baseball schools" while noting that another opponent, Southern Tech, is a four-year school.

Against these obvious disadvantages, Slepisky hopes his team's spirit can carry them over early errors. As in the past, his team has earned the money to make the trip this time by supervising seven gyms for Willow Run over the Christmas holidays.

"They sure want to play ball, that's for sure," Slepisky says. "We've been practicing six days a week since the start of February — three times a week from 9:30 p.m. to midnight at Eastern Michigan."

"These kids want to play ball, all right."

3 more U.S. records fall; Indiana tankers lead NCAA

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Three more American records tumbled Friday in the second day of the 48th annual National Collegiate Athletic Association swimming and diving championships, but there were also some bizarre happenings.

Like title-bound Indiana finally failing to score in an event after its 800-yard freestyle relay team was disqualified for over exuberance.

And new American 100-yard breaststroke record — holder Thomas Bruce failing to win his event from arch-rival Brian Job of Stanford.

What was not new was Indiana's dominance of the field for a second day. Despite losing 26 points because of the disqualification, the Hoosiers had a 74-point lead over Southern Cal.

The most remarkable new record was Southern Cal's blistering 6:39.05 victory in the slambang 800-yard freestyle relay. The time sliced more than eight seconds off the old U.S. record.

Gary Hall's 3:58.2 victory in the 400-yard individual medley gave him his second record-setting victory of the meet and the multi-talented sophomore now owns two world and three American records.

UCLA freshman Bruce scored to a .5586 prelim in the 100 breaststroke records to erase the old American mark of :57.02 and NCAA and meet marks of :57.6, both held by Job.

In the finals, Job prevailed with a :57.2 clocking to Bruce's :57.7 and ran his victory streak to four straight in head-to-head meetings.

Indian coach James (Doc) Coonsilman was still confident of a fourth straight title as his team took a 239 to 165 lead over Southern Cal into Saturday's events.

UCLA with 150 points was third followed by California — Long Beach (93), Stanford (82), Washington (82), Tennessee (65) and Southern Methodist (65) among the leaders.

Oklahoma State leads matmen

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Oklahoma State, college wrestling's burning force, today stood on the threshold of its 27th National Collegiate Athletic Association championship.

The Cowboys, who last won in 1963, needed only one victory from any of its five finalists or two competitors in the afternoon consolation to put the title on ice.

OSU had 73 points and Iowa State, only team retaining a mathematical chance, had 52.

Trailing the two Big Eight teams in scoring were Oregon State, 38; Penn State, 33; Michigan State, 31; Washington, 28, and Lehigh and Oklahoma, 25 each. Oklahoma, for the first time in 18 years, will fail to win an individual championship since the Sooners advanced no one to the finals.

LANSING — Starvation and loose dogs are starting to take a bigger toll of winter-weary deer in northern Michigan, reports the Department of Natural Resources.

As of the start of spring, known starvation losses totaled 22 whitetails in the DNR's Gaylord District and 12 animals in the Mio area. Through that same period, the season's critical conditions above the Straits had claimed 4 fawns in the Baraga District and 8 fawns in the Crystal Falls District (5 from Menominee County and 3 from Iron County).

Also relayed to the DNR's Lansing office but not confirmed were reports of a winter-killed fawn near Northland in the Escanaba District, and 5 starved deer along the Little Muskegon River in Newaygo County.

Besides showing signs of their most serious starvation threat in recent winters, deer in some northern Michigan areas are also being helplessly attacked and killed by loose dogs. In the Gaylord District, marauding dogs have victimized 18 deer, a figure which nearly matches that area's known starvation toll.

In an ironical twist of problems for deer this winter, DNR deer specialist David A. Arnold notes that some of the animals in northern Michigan are being literally "fed to death" with surplus federal corn.

He points out that 3 deer in the Upper Peninsula have been found dead from "stuffing" themselves on emergency corn supplies. The latest such victim was located last week along the Whitefish River in Delta County. Wildlife biologists from the DNR's Mio District report that a number of deer in that area have also died after overeating corn put out by volunteer citizens.

In an effort to hold down losses from this so-called "overeating disease," Arnold urges people cooperating in emergency deer feeding not to be so generous in rationing surplus federal corn allocated by the DNR. "We'd like to see them scatter the corn over larger areas rather than dumping it in big piles where the animals can stuff themselves."

Looking ahead to the end of this long, hard winter for northern Michigan deer, Arnold continues to see a tough pull. Last week's thaw lowered snow depths in that part of the state but, as he puts it, "one thaw doesn't make a spring in northern Michigan."

Who needs wildlife? We all do, from the lads examining a sonorous bullfrog and a fluffy pheasant chick to the wildlife photographer and the north woods stroller who comes upon a bustling chipmunk.

Belleville archers shine at Lansing open shoot

The season's first tournament in competitive archery saw 19 Belleville Archery Club members last weekend bring home $210 in prize money.

Open to all shooters, the First Annual Capitol City Open at Lansing's Robin Hood Lanes attracted over 100 competitors from Michigan, Indiana and Canada to vie for the $1,000 purse which was divided among 20 flights.

Each flight was determined by the archers' first two games, assuring competition between shooters of like abilities.

Belleville prize winners included Bob Hall (297), Ted Hoinka (291), Dick DeMonte (287), Art Whitcomb (281), Sandy Hoinka (281), Dick Cardinal (279), Linda Davis (275), Don Ellison (270), Bill Mullens (268) and Jim Frazier (267).

A similar flight system is in use this weekend at the $12,000 American Indoor Championship at Detroit's Cobo Hall.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

By SYDNEY OMARR

MONDAY FORECAST
Legitimate astrologers subscribe to a strict code of ethics — many belong to the American Federation of Astrologers. Most good practitioners are able writers knowledgeable about history, astronomy and psychology, as well as astrology. There are thousands of astrology buffs in the United States alone, and countless other thousands throughout the world, especially in the Southeast Asian countries.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Pull in financial reins. Recent tendency to overspend now catches up. Key is to review responsibilities. Appreciate assets. Evaluate possessions. Regain basic values.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Caution is key. Some who should know better act in intransigent manner. Be realistic. Refuse to be victim of self-deception. Publishing activity could be causing friction.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Money negotiation may occur without your knowledge. Realize this and start assuming a added responsibility. Don't trust disinterested persons. Be there — be aware and knowledgeable.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Accent on friendships, desires as they coincide with those of mate, partner. You may have to let go of some fond notions. You face music. You become a better person for it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Legal commitment could consume much energy. Don't try to get out of performing essentials. Protect standing.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Associate, co-worker may retard progress. Key is to be an innovator. Refuse to be tied down by tradition. Take what action is needed. Your intuitive intellect now serves as reliable guide.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Practical matters dominate. You want to have more freedom of thought, action. But it will be necessary to check budget, long-range plans. Don't be fooled by fast talker.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Recent actions, based on impulse, are subject to review. Check apparent minor points. Pursue fine points; read between the lines. You can recoup losses. Key is to do plenty of listening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Office communications could be garbled. Avoid costly error by asking questions. By being honest, you make ultimate gain. Pride now can be a problem. Be specific — and get at the truth.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Accent investment rather than speculation. Avoid radical changes. Stick to what you know. Conservative course now is most constructive. Money situation can be improved.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Be aware of what's occurring in high places. Means know that authorities are observing — and reporting. One who appears indifferent may be vitally concerned.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Friends may press you with their problems. Key is to attend to your own responsibilities. Member of opposite sex resorts to sweet talk. Maintain sense of humor. Reject false flattery.

If today is your birthday you are intuitive, have unusual sense of humor, will do more traveling soon, will be rewarded for past efforts. You generally are forthright, independent. Start putting original ideas to work.

Popular macaroni

Out of the 150 different macaroni shapes, spaghetti, egg noodles and elbow macaroni are by far the most popular in the United States, according to Robert M. Green, executive director of the National Macaroni Institute.

ON BRIDGE

"Please say a word or two about overbidding," a Chicago reader requests. "My partner will always bid a grand slam when only a small slam can be made. This is fair enough, because she bids a small slam if only a game can be made. Is there any cure for this disease?"

Opening lead — ♣ K

"My partner jumped to seven hearts on the accompanying hand, and went down one when the spade finesse lost. Then she complained because I didn't have the king of spades for my free bid of one notrump.

"Was my bidding reasonable? What about my partner's?"

I see nothing wrong with the bidding. Aggressive, but that's no crime. The word about overbidding is it pays if you know how to play the cards really well. Underbidding is a loser's game.

Even though the king of spades is in unfavorable position, South can make seven hearts against the club opening lead. If you haven't worked it out, take a few extra seconds to think about the correct play before you read on.

You need only normal breaks to bring the grand slam home. Ruff the king of clubs, lead the jack of hearts to dummy's queen, ruff another club, and lead the four of diamonds to dummy's nine to enter the dummy. Now ruff dummy's last club with your last trump.

Lead a diamond to dummy's king, holding your breath while you wait to see if both opponents follow suit. When they do, lead dummy's three remaining trumps, discarding the three low spades from your own hand. You then take the rest of the tricks with the ace of spades and the good diamonds.

Daily Question
Partner opens with one heart, and the next player jumps to two spades. You hold: S-Q 9 2, H-Q 10 9 8, D-K 9 2, C-Q 10 7. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid three hearts. This is not considered a jump response but simply a bid made under pressure.

Each newborn baby in the Duesseldorf area of Germany now receives a "baby pass." Medical data about the baby as well as the mother are recorded in the pass by the hospital. The idea is that any doctor who treats the mother or child has accurate information.

Try and Stop Me

INCOMPARABLE violin virtuoso Mischa Elman practices to this day faithfully at least two hours out of every twenty-four. As he explains, "If I don't practice, the first night I notice it; the second night the critics notice it; the third night, the public."

When the late British star, the once beautiful but difficult Mrs. Patrick Campbell, refused to come to America for the film version of Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion," because that would have meant putting her evil-tempered Pekinese in a kennel for six months, the exasperated Mr. Shaw wrote her, "For heaven's sake, when that wretched peke of yours is killed by an automobile or perishes in the course of nature, buy a giant panda or a giraffe or a water buffalo, any of which you can take anywhere."

In her declining years, Mrs. Campbell's fortune was dissipated, but until her sorry demise, she continued feeding her wretched dog expensive food she no longer could afford for herself.

OVERHEARD:
Jack Martin: "Show me a tyke who's eaten too much canteloupe, and I'll show you a melon colic baby."
Casting director at wild life film studio to supplicating jumbo elephant: "I can understand your passionate desire to get this part, but tell me truthfully: Have you ever played an ostrich before?"

Self-service gas stations show growing popularity

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — In somewhat the same manner as self-service laundries caught on in the immediate post-World War II years and automatic carwashers some years later, self-service gasoline stations now show signs of growing popularity. There is little evidence yet of a business boom, the statistics are beginning to look very bullish. In 1969 there were about 2,500 such stations, according to industry sources. Now the figure is estimated to be probably as high as 7,500, out of a national total of 220,000 stations. In addition, several big name companies now are taking the development more seriously than just a few years ago, when most of the stations were manned by small proprietors, including many grocers. The greatest activity so far has been in the West and South, and the chief reason given for acceptance there generally involve the availability and cost of labor, remote locations and entrepreneurial spirit. For the proprietor, self-service is a labor-saving device, but for the customer it is hardly that. More accurately, the self-service station is a labor-transfer device, relieving the seller of chores by passing them on to the buyer. This concept, ingenious in its simplicity, already has rewarded many thousands of small businessmen who note that while labor for hire costs money, customer labor often is plentiful, inexpensive, uncomplaining and easily exploited.

Consider this suggestive copy that Jersey Standard's subsidiary, AMF Tel Tron, uses to sell its story in the rapidly growing South California market, and then judge for yourself if customer labor pays off: "About 35 per cent (of installations) are convenience stores with a couple of pumps or more outside as an extra business. Some of these stores are pumping enough gasoline to clear $500 profit per month. This rate would pay for equipment in less than a year. "The only work of the owner or operator is to fill the water squitter once a day and install a fresh supply of wiper towels." Broadly speaking, two types are being used. In one, the flow of fuel is controlled from within the store by an electric device. The customer fills up and then comes in to pay.

In the other, a money counter is attached to the pump, restricting the flow to the amount paid for. Two serious drawbacks involve the law and social custom. Some fire marshals have objected to unattended pumps, especially with violence erupting in many areas. And there is always the chain smoker who forgets the cigarette in his mouth when he has the gasoline hose in his hand. At last count, 16 states refuse to permit self-service stations, although no major fires have so far resulted.

"I've lost weight since I got married, but I'll gain it back—once I get used to my wife's cooking."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

OUR 49TH YEAR

Schman &amp; Greenstreet

IMMACULATE WEST SIDE BRICK RANCH: This home has had fine care and is in excellent condition. Three bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths. Aluminum awnings, the basement has one of the prettiest floors we have ever seen. Enclosed patio. Range and refrigerator. Color TV antenna. Attached garage. Close to good elementary school. $33,500. May be purchased for about $4,500 down plus closing costs if you can qualify for M.G.I.C. mortgage.

ONLY $800 DOWN PLUS CLOSING COSTS: Three times now we thought we had this fine three-bedroom frame ranch home "sold" only to find buyer did not qualify for F.H.A. loan. We are looking for a party with good credit and a good job to purchase this very good home located in the area of Township Hall and George School.

PROSPECT PARK AREA: An unusually fine two-bedroom home with enclosed front porch, patio with gas barbecue grill, folding aluminum awnings and fenced rear yard. All in spic-and-span shape. $27,500. F.H.A. terms applied for.

YEAR 'ROUND LAKE HOME: Fox Point section at Portage Lake. Two bedrooms. Bar. Fireplace. Stove, refrigerator, rugs and drapes all stay. 40 foot TV antenna. 2 lots. Sandy beach. $29,700. Will sell on terms.

ONE ACRE COUNTRY BUILDING SITES: This may very well be your last chance. There were 61 lots in beautiful Stoneham Estates in Lincoln School District. We have only 2 left. Many fine homes already built. $4,100 each.

THREE ACRE INDUSTRIAL SITE: Situated inside the city, between the Huron River and railroad. Price figures out at less than $1.00 square foot.

Local man sentenced for snowmobile theft

A local man, who was arrested by sheriff's deputies as a result of an investigation of a theft "ring", was sentenced yesterday in Circuit Court for possession of stolen property.

Harry E. Kline, Jr., 24, of 1191 Maplewood Ave., pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of stolen property over $100 last month. He was sentenced to serve from 1½ to 5 years with the Michigan Corrections Commission.

Kline was arrested by deputies in January after an investigation into the theft of 10 snowmobiles and four trailers. During the investigation, two detectives traveled more than 2,000 miles into upper Michigan and recovered the snowmobiles and trailers.

They said six machines had been stolen from Washtenaw County, two from Oakland County and two from Newaygo County since October. At the time of Kline's arrest, deputies said they believed he was involved in a theft "ring" with several distant relatives, all of whom have been arrested and charged.

Time is teacher

NEW YORK (AP) — Carl Sandburg said, "Time is a great teacher," but Bulova Watch Co. researchers report teaching time is a different matter. According to a recent survey, children are usually 8 or 9 years-old before they can fully comprehend the length of a month.
